Sightings – Sunday 07/12/08 & Monday 15/12/08

The following sighting accounts are from yours truly who witnessed it from the balcony of my unit in Guildford, NSW at approx. 9.30pm Sunday 07 December 2008 and at approx 10pm Monday 15 December 2008.

Sunday 7 December 2008

I was watching television in the lounge room when I looked out the window and I saw this streak of light hovering in the sky.

I stepped out onto the balcony to get a better view. My balcony faces towards the North, and being on higher ground I have an unobstructed view of the sky.

Being night time it is difficult to determine how far away this light was. However, I am certain it was some distance away.

Although the location of this light was not very high in the sky, it is however well above the tree line / horizon so this light could not have been caused by buildings or from cars or from anything coming from the ground.

This light has a light golden glow. It is one continuous unbroken streak of light. I estimated the length of this light would be about 4 passenger planes placed end on end.

This light remained hovering in the sky for approx. 1 minute before it began to move, it appeared to be turning, moving towards the east. As this happened, this light began to fade away.

Seconds later, 2 red glows of light appeared just to the left of where the streak of light was before.

I estimated the length of the red glow would be that of a passenger plane and the height would be 2 passenger planes on top of each other. The distance between the 2 lights would be at least 1 passenger plane length apart.

The 2 red glows began to move in a westerly direction. The speed they travelled was constant and the distance between each light did not changed at any time. I continued to see these lights travelling together in uniform, before eventually they disappeared below the tree line.

Monday 15 December 2008

From the balcony of my unit I saw a red glow hovering over the sky, at about the same location to my previous sighting. My first impression was that of the flood lights of a police helicopter, however I have never since one that is red in colour. All through this experience this red glow remained stationery. At first the glow just stayed hovered in the sky. Then, it began to blink.

It started with 2 quick blinks in succession, then paused for a second, then 2 blinks in succession. This continued for 15 to 20 seconds. Then the sequence changed; single blink with 1.5 seconds pause between blinks. This continued for 15 to 20 seconds. Then sequence changed once again; single blink with .5 second pause. This too continued for 15 to 20 seconds. Then the three sequences are repeated.

The blinking eventually stopped and moments later the glow slowly faded away.

US pilot told to shoot down UFO

October 20, 2008

An American jet fighter pilot has spoken of the day he was scrambled to try to shoot down a UFO in British airspace more than 50 years ago. Lieutenant Milton Torres was based in Britain on May 20, 1957 when he received the order: get up there, arm all weapons and fire on sight.
He climbed into his Sabre jet, took off from a Royal Air Force base in Kent and headed east, spotting on his radar the blip that his superiors had judged to be hostile and probably Russian . The dot indicated an object about the size of a B52 bomber about 24km away and Torres set a course, rockets at the ready, to catch it. But the aircraft vanished. The blip on the radar was gone too. Torres has finally spoken of his top secret mission following the declassification of Ministry of Defence files, cited by The Times newspaper, that relate to reported incidents of unidentified flying objects in British airspace.

Torres, now 77, told The Times that the day after he was scrambled from the RAF base he received a visit from an American in a trench coat who waved a National Security Agency identity card at him and warned him that, if he ever revealed what had happened, he would never fly again. He took the warning to heart and said nothing until 1988 when, through a solicitor with an interest in ufology, he sent the Ministry of Defence a report giving a full account of the incident. That narrative has now been released by Britain's National Archives.
"I shall never forget it, and for the last 50 years I have been waiting for an explanation, but I've never had one," he told The Times. "On that night I was ordered to open fire even before I had taken off. That had never happened before. "I was ready to hit the target with all 24 rockets: it would have been like buckshot out of a shotgun. I asked for authentication of the order to fire and I received it."

Neither Torres, who was 24 at the time, nor the pilot of a second Sabre flying behind, actually saw what was making the strong blip on their radars. Since the incident, Torres has become more convinced that the object, travelling at speed and performing manoeuvres beyond the capability of any known aircraft at that time, was an alien UFO. "The blip was burning a hole in the radar with its incredible intensity. It was similar to a blip I had received from B52s and seemed to be a magnet of light. It had the proportions of a flying aircraft carrier," he wrote, according to The Times.

But David Clarke, a UFO expert and lecturer in journalism at Sheffield Hallam University, has offered an alternative explanation.
He said that in the 1960s it emerged that the CIA had been engaged in a secret project codenamed Palladium, in which advanced equipment was used to create simulated radar blips close to Soviet airspace. Dr Clarke told The Times that he thought it was linked to clandestine flights over the Soviet Union of the American U2 spy plane. But he added, "This doesn't explain why Milton Torres was scrambled and ordered to open fire".

I was travelling to work this morning on Thursday the 27. November 2008 and saw a strange Star. I live just outside of Narrabri 2390 NSW and when I went to work this morning at 4.15 am after rain that night/Morning you could see a lot of stars in the sky. I only live 8 km out of town and as I was travelling along Kaputar Road I watched the stars and there was a star…I thought it was a little bit out of shape, more like oval with and…light where like a stripe and I saw that for about 2 km and then it come closer…(me travelling) I still look above and it was a Egg shaped thing with dull lights flashing and I was to scared to pull up and have a look….Now….was there anywhere maybe a Airship around (Zeppelin) maybe you could find out…I was really scared…If somebody would have been with me…OK I would of stopped but not by my selves….It did not move and it also was the size of an egg with 3 dull light…flashing ...there was no Wires going across the road because when I come back from work at 7 am I gone home , turned around and had a good look whether there was something which would reflected…..but no, I seen this morning that thing for a few minutes until I come closer…it just was sitting in the sky…that's why I ask could you find out for me in case of a Airship?

My wife, daughter and I live in Strathfield, Sydney and on Thursday 6/11/08 at 8:37 pm, the three of us spotted a UFO going from south to north (we were looking west and the object was at an angle of about 50°).

It was a very bright and round white light - about twice the size of Jupiter at its brightest – and completely silent. It didn't have any flashing lights like aeroplanes do and definitely wasn't travelling around any of the commercial flights paths that we see. We observed it for 2-3 minutes and then, in the space of about 2 seconds, the light dimmed to nothing and we could no longer see it.

We didn't get a chance to take any photos because we were so excited at having seen one for the first time. Hopefully there are others who saw it, to confirm the sighting for you.

Hello, I recently came across a story about Dubbo and UFO's on this site http://www.paranormalnews.com/article.asp?articleID=528 It has sparked my interest in sharing a story with you though I think it happened when I was under the age of 12, so around 2002 or before. I'd also like to remain anonymous and simply share this story with you for your own interest.

I can remember driving in the car with my mother. I was in the back seat. We were driving along Joira Road which is on the outskirts of Dubbo just off the Minore Road heading towards Narromine. I was looking out the window when i noticed three bright orange objects flying one above each other, and I can specifically remember one going a little bit faster then the others. From my perspective they were close to the ground, flying very fast and very close. I'd never seen anything like that before, and I haven't seen anything similar since. The Dubbo airport is in that direction which could offer a source of explanation.

While at work in a vehicle in streets of Maryborough, Victoria. At approximately 0050 hrs on 27.09.08 I observed very large slow moving object, possibly many small objects in close vicinity. At first it appeared to be light aircraft passing over town showing a single white light. Then a very long single beam of tapering light emitted from the white spot. The beam was very long across the sky and fairly narrow. I had time to turn the corner, stop, turnoff lights and motor and exit vehicle. Nil sound. Speed constant, too slow for meteor, unless it was massive and a long way out. I didn't appear to be burning up. I watched the object travel out of sight below the roof tops of houses in the street. Nil spark shower or other varying lights emitted. Travelling SSE, roughly in the direction of Melbourne approximately 30 degrees above the horizon. Corroborated by colleague in vehicle with me.

Our reply,

This was what Christopher saw looking at the flight path places it at the right place and time and going in the right direction (see) http://www.reentrynews.com/2008046e.html

The UFO hotline went crazy in the early hours of Saturday morning time was 1245 hrs. 14 people rang in to say they were watching a UFO with a tail flying low across the sky with no sound. The same description was reported in Victoria through South Australia and in the outback town of Coober Pedy. Don't worry investigators I returned all calls. Unfortunately and I am quite sure, most saw Proton-K Stage 4 re-entry at 1245hrs on 27th September 08 AU time. If you click on the link and you will see its flight path over Australia. When I mentioned space junk most said no way.

I am reporting of my observation of a possible UFO sighting while travelling over Gladesville Bridge on my way to swimming training this morning which I have done for many years, 3 mornings a week. I saw to my right looking towards Harbour Bridge/ Nth Sydney area I saw 2 glowing objects travelling very fast horizontally @ 45 deg angle with each other. My first thoughts were falling star, then sunrise reflecting on satellites, then airplanes, then helicopters. I wound down my window as I thought it could also be lights reflecting on the glass or if helicopters I would hear the noise.
I heard nothing and the lights were still there travelling in the same direction very fast. After ruling out (mainly because of the horizontal direction & the speed) all the above I just couldn't believe the alternatives a fair dinkum UFO sighting. I just watched while going over the bridge the 2 lights speed off in the distance over towards the Hills area, shaking my head in disbelief.

My husband, 13 year old son and I were travelling over the Captain Cook Bridge Taren Point, Sydney heading south towards our home at Lilli Pilli at approximately 8.35pm on Saturday 27th September, 2008. We saw 4 lights to the left of us which were shining in the sky. Two of these lights moved towards each other and the other two were stationery on the outer. A car heading in the same direction as us pulled over and stopped presumably to look at it. There were a number of cars heading in both directions. Has anyone else reported the sighting and is there an explanation for lights in that area last night?

I am a UFO sceptic however my wife and I saw a strange flying object this afternoon at Bonville, NSW, on Friday 26th Sept, 2008 at approx 5:00 pm. Clear sky with no cloud. We are wildlife carers and have a young Wood Duck in our care that was looking up at something above that we though may be a hawk or eagle so both of us looked up to see a strange shining object that was moving quite fast through the sky. I first thought it was just a high plane in the sky however it was very shiny and appeared to have two sets of wings with both long front and rear sections. It was heading in a south westerly direction. There was no sound at all and the speed at which it moved was far quicker than I have seen with any plane I have ever seen before. We both have good eyesight and not drinking at the time. Maybe some type of military plane?
